ITINERARY: WESTERN IRELAND TO LONDON

Day one and two: Fly to Shannon from OKC and then we will make our way to Killarney. We will see some incredible sites on the way, let the sightseeing begin.

Day Three: We will take an excursion to the Ring of Kerry where we will visit the Bog Village and museum, and we will see vistas of the coast that are breathtaking.

Day Four: We travel to Blarney Castle (Anyone up to kissing the stone?), see the “Rock of Cashel” and continue on to Dublin where we will enjoy a diner of the Irish staple of Guinness stew. Dublin is compact which will allow some great touring before calling it a day.

Day Five: Spend the day in Dublin starting with the Book of Kells and St. Patrick’s Cathedral and more. The Temple Bar area is incredible as is O’Connell Street—and it’s all an easy walk.

Day Six: We will leave Dublin and take a ferry from Dublin to Holyhead. There we will visit a Welsh Castle, probably Beaumaris, and travel through Snowdonia. Many past travelers have said this was the most beautiful sightseeing they have every experienced.

Day Seven: Stratford, Oxford, and London
What would England be without a visit to “the” home of Shakespeare and arguably the home of higher education—Stratford on Avon and Oxford are day seven.....we will eventually be in London by nightfall.

Day Eight and Nine: London
Teri and I have, for a small fee, added a day nine in London. We will have so much to do you will want a week there. So, when we talk about London in class we will help you get your priorities lined up to maximize your time. Diner on day eight is an English tradition: fish and chips.....the English way!
